

THE GREENWOOD STEP CLOG DANCERS

The Greenwood Step Clog Dancers are based in Nottingham in the UK, and were formed in 1970. We dance step clog, mostly from northern England, Scotland, and Wales, and choreograph all dances to suit our members and create a varied spectacle.

Step-clog dancing involves fast and intricate steps, performed wearing clogs with wooden soles (ideally made of ash wood) and leather uppers. The best surface to dance on is a smooth resonant surface such as stone, slate or hard wood.

We often dance out in local villages with the Foresters Morris Men. We dance at festivals and locations throughout the UK.

We dance at dawn every year to celebrate spring on the first of May, about 5.15a.m. at the Robin Hood statue by Nottingham Castle. Our music consists of traditional British folk tunes, together with some Music Hall songs, and is generally played on accordion.
